

REPUBLICANS OF GREATER OAKLAND WIN THEIR FIRST DECISIVE VICTORY AT THE POLLS.

R. W. SNOW IS ELECTED THE CITY'S MAYOR.

Dow, Clement, Gilpin and Breed
Are Chosen by the

Greater Oakland is a Republican city. The election of yesterday, the first one since the acquisition of the annexed district to the municipality, demonstrated this fact, though it must be said that the resident voters of the place of territory recently taken into the city deserve little credit for the Republicanism of the city. In fact, if anything they cut down the majorities, but they voted and are happy in being allowed a voice in the management of Oakland.

R. W. Snow, W. A. Dow and Monte Clement will compose the next Board of Public Works. All are Republicans, though Clement was a nominee on the Democratic and Independent tickets this time.

The fight between Dow and Garrity was a bitter one. It was a clean-cut contest, with a fair field and no favors. Dow beat Garrity by 265 votes. He polled 5,100 to Garrity's 4,835.

The fight of the day was between Clement and Miller. In this trial of strength the line was drawn so closely that not until the very last of the returns were recorded could a positive conclusion be reached. Then it was found that Miller lacked eighty-six votes of winning out, he only having received 4,889 while Clement polled up 4,795.

And thus it went all down the ticket, a close vote on the contested offices and narrow margins. Gilpin "won in a walk" while Breed came under the wire well ahead of his ticket. Hinsdale and Hackett were almost "left at the post."

With one exception the four Councilmen-at-large are Republicans. Chas. Kramm is the only Democrat, Cuvelier, Barstow and Stetson being well within the Republican fold.

From the wards Mott, Girard, Upton, Taylor and Rowe were the Republican candidates for Councilmen, while Meese had the Municipal League nomination and Schaffer the Independent.

J. W. Evans was defeated for School Director-at-large by a small margin while Dr. Myra Knox was again complimented by the citizens of Oakland by receiving most flattering support which elected her with many votes to spare.

The election was a remarkably quiet one when it is considered that over 10,000 votes were polled. At the last municipal election 9,585 ballots were cast and the day was made lively enough to satisfy the most exciting.

In this connection it is permissible for the Tribune to speak of the fine service it gave its patrons and the citizens generally. Partial election returns were furnished from all over the city every fifteen minutes and were posted on the two huge bulletins in front of the Tribune office. That this service was appreciated was proven by the big crowd which hung about the building until the very last returns were heard from.

The figures gathered from the polls are more expressive than comment upon the election and so the following tables are presented to show how and where the votes were cast and who for.

TEMPEST IN THE CUBAN TEAPOT.

The Assembly's Petty Attack on Gomez Boomerang.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, March 14.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Havana says:

The teapot of Cuban politics has been fairly boiling over again. The Gomez and anti-Gomez factions of the revolutionary party are vying with each other to fan the flames of discord kindled on Saturday by the military Assembly's attempt to depose the veteran insurgent chief from the leadership of the army. It is clear that the controlling element in the Assembly could not have measured accurately the prestige and popularity of that somewhat nondescript body before plunging into the foolhardy contest with General Gomez which Saturday's resolution of deposition has precipitated, for with all the faults of temper and judgment which may be charged against him, Gomez remains the sole military hero of the recent rebellion, one figure which appeals without reserve to the great mass of Cubans whose tact rather than active support made the maintenance of the insurrection possible.

Had Maceo or even Garcia lived there might have been a rival within the army to divide with Gomez the honors of the struggle against Spain and to challenge now the expediency of his political policy, but among the Generals of the military Assembly none has as yet sufficiently recommended himself to Cuban opinion as to attract a distinct or devoted following.

The influence of the Assembly as a whole is not to be set for a moment against that of the real chief of the army, who fought its campaigns and is now endeavoring, with apparent disinterestedness, to secure for it the only compensation for its labors which can reasonably be expected to receive.

There is chagrin at the refusal of Gomez to chase the will-o'-the-wisp of an independent loan at his firm insistence on an acceptance of the arrears offered by the United States, and these reasons lie at the bottom of the Assembly's petty attempt to humiliate him by depriving him of rank and power; but in his reply to the Assembly, issued yesterday, the veteran warrior accepts the decree of retirement and renounces the generalship, but he remains, in spite of his enemies, the political head of the revolutionary party, and in that role will continue to direct the fortunes both of the army and of the other elements of the Cuban population, whose present desire is for a speedy termination of military control and the cessation of the present guardianship exercised by the United States.

There are abundant indications that the military Assembly's shortsighted attack on General Gomez has simply put an end to that body's already attenuated credit and influence, and the military administration here and American opinion generally had long ago dismissed the Assembly's pretension to represent the wishes of either the Cuban people or the Cuban army.

La Lucha attributes to General Brooke this sarcastic remark on the dismissal of Gomez from the chieftainship:

"I suppose the General will feel as I would if some patriotic committee dismissed me from the office I hold."

The coincidence has also attracted notice that in the same papers which publish elaborate accounts of the debate in the Assembly last Saturday, an order appears informing the Governor of the department of Havana that the United States Government will recognize no financial obligations entered into by any person claiming to represent the people of Cuba without the authorization of the President. This is a final and crushing blow to the Assembly's pet scheme of an independent loan to satisfy the inflated army pay-rolls which had been sent down under General Gomez's supervision. The new order leaves the Assembly flounders without further occupation.

The average sentiment of Havana finds its best expression perhaps in La Lucha, the newspaper with a neutral though decided opportunist tendency. This conspicuous organ of local opinion vigorously denounces the Assembly's action and draws from the incident the unpleasant conclusion:

"Such an occurrence as that of Saturday is prejudicial to the interest of every Cuban man, woman and child, as the Americans are not to be convinced of the existence of self-control, judgment or any of the traits necessary for conducting an administration when they see such glaring evidence of what a prominent Cuban classified last night as 'childish pettishness.'"

It takes eloquent and convincing proof to compel a recognition of there being any other type of politicians on the island. Porter made the $3,000,000 agreement with Gomez. The money will be distributed by Gomez and the instruction to General Brooke regarding the formation of native troops conveys the tacit acceptance of the plans of Gomez submitted to Washington.

As to the attitude of the Cubans themselves toward the Assembly, the demonstrations of yesterday and today speak convincingly. The Havana newspapers are filled with protests from all parts of the island against the selfish policy of the anti-Gomez leaders in this city. Last night a vehement demonstration in protest against the removal of Gomez was kept in bounds only by the energy of the municipal police, and today the popular feeling expressed its satisfaction in street parades by many Cuban clubs and societies, and in a set of speeches by General Gomez's headquarters in the suburbs.

That the Assembly will be able long to maintain itself against this display of feeling is doubtful. Many observers think, indeed, that its surrender, followed by the restoration of Gomez to his former authority, is the only logical outcome of the situation.

CHICAGO, Mar. 14.—Peculiar features in regard to the popular superstition connected with No. 13 were that of the death of James Powers, a window washer, yesterday, happening as it did on the 13th of the month. Powers was employed on July 13, 1898, to take the place of John Miller, a window washer, who met his death on that day, falling from the same window from which Powers fell. The window is the thirteenth from the ground. The dead man was 25 years old—twice 13. Miller, the first man to meet his death from the unlucky window, had worked just thirty-nine days—just three 13s when he was killed.

MUST HAVE NEW ROLLING STOCK.

WANT AN END OF HOSTILITIES.

Falling Off in Revenue Appeal from Boston to of the Canadian Pacific.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

MONTREAL, March 14.—The annual report of the directorate of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company which will be presented at the annual meeting of the shareholders in this city on April 5th next has been made public. An exceptionally interesting feature of the report is the evidence it contains that the Canadian Pacific has reached the point where the necessity of very considerable renewing and addition to its rolling stock can no longer be deferred. Since the completion of the main line of the road sixteen years ago when enormous government subsidies enabled the company to equip itself with a most complete rolling stock and terminal facilities, very little expenditure under these heads has occurred, and the company was able to declare dividends regularly. With little having been done in the way of gradual renewal of its rolling stock, however, it became only question of time when a large outlay would have to be made for this purpose.

That to that time has now come, appears from the part of the report which calls for the expenditure of over $2,000,000 for rolling stock and terminal facilities and $1,100,000 for improvement of permanent way.

The balance sheet of the affairs of the company December 31, 1898, shows: The gross earnings for the year were $25,138,877; the working expenses were $15,663,605, and the net earnings were $10,475,371.

The working expenses for the year amounted to 60.92 per cent of the gross earnings, and the net earnings to 40.58 per cent, as compared with 57.18 and 42.84 per cent respectively in 1897-98.

The earnings per passenger per mile were 1.52 cents and per ton of freight per mile .66 cents, as against 1.82 and .78 cents respectively in 1897.

Got His Indemnity.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—In 1898 the house of Dr. Wishart of the American Mission in the Shahr-i-Sher, Persia, was forcibly entered and robbed of personal effects to the value of 200 tomans. The burglary was committed in the face of the usual guards of soldiers. Dr. Wishart pressed for an indemnity of 200 tomans and succeeded in settling the claim for that amount.

DISHONEST CONTRACTORS.

Berkeley Swindled in Some of Its Sewer Work.

BERKELEY, March 14.—At the meeting of the Town Trustees last night Street Superintendent Chick reported that some of the Berkeley contractors were guilty of systematic fraud in their work. He said that as soon as the inspector's back was turned these contractors were in the habit of substituting condemned sewer pipe for the first grade article required by the Street Department. In many cases the pipe was utterly unfit for use. The Town Attorney was instructed to draw up an ordinance providing for a rigid inspection of the sewer work.

The Board passed a resolution petitioning the Alameda county Legislative delegation to urge the passage of Assembly Bill 249, the companion to the Berkeley court measure, and which provides for a census of the inhabitants of the town.

Foundmaster Harry Hughes was reinstated in the office from which he was recently discharged. His salary was fixed at $20 a month and fees.

A ROMAN PLAY AND BIG JOHN L.

Strong Attractions at the Two Play-Houses.

Tonight, at the Macdonough Theater, there will be a magnificent production of the great play, "The Sign of the Cross," and there will be a repetition of the piece tomorrow night.

"The Sign of the Cross," is a play that occupies a unique position on the stage. It is the first important and successful attempt of modern times to give genuine dramatic color and distinction to a religious theme. It may be regarded as a triumphant achievement of the old time drama on skilled modern lines with the present day perfection of dramatic construction applied to its presentation.

"The Sign of the Cross" depicts with graphic and impressive strength the struggle between Christianity and a corrupt pagan nation. The author knows how to bring to a powerful story all the clever devices of stage-craft, and in this instance he has surpassed all of his other notable productions.

AT THE DEWEY.

At the Dewey Theater, last night, there was an audience which packed the auditorium and the gallery. The attraction was John L. Sullivan, Jake Kilrain and an all star vaudeville company, which gave a performance which delighted the people up to a late hour. The opening feature of the entertainment is a burletta entitled "A Trip Across the Ocean." The idea is a funny one, well expressed and is cleverly acted. The performers take a great deal of interest in their work and keep the audience in a roar.

The specialty company contains a number of clever performers and all their acts are most entertaining.

The closing feature of the entertainment is a bout between the two ex-champions, John L. Sullivan and Jake Kilrain. Both of the gladiators were received with applause and gave an exhibition of scientific boxing which was a revelation to those who had never seen these distinguished fighters of other days.

The whole performance is one which will please the people and draw full houses during the week.

SACRAMENTO, March 14.—The past few hours have witnessed the launching of as wild a set of rumors as could be imagined, with the result that everything has been stirred up to such an extent that it can truly be said that the excitement with which it has been generally prophesied the Senatorial campaign would close has actually set in. Just how everything started is hard to say, for the first public intimation of a change in the situation came with a bombardment of the pool rooms, where odds were being offered on the contest.

U. S. Grant was the center about which the excitement raged. At 6 o'clock last night he was quoted in the betting at 3 to 1, at which figure the money suddenly began to pour in until the bookmakers had to cut the odds to 2 to 1. This did not stem the tide, though, for many wagers were made at that figure, with the result that the price dropped another notch to 2 to 1. Two bets of $100 each at this figure proved the last straws, though, for the bookmakers became alarmed and rubbed the odds against Grant off the slate altogether.

All efforts to run down the occasion of this sudden change in the betting proved unavailing, the only thing that could be cornered being a rumor that "a combination had been made that gave the fight to Grant." But how?

Good News for Some of the Officials of Alameda County.

general appropriation bill will not be out of committee until tomorrow, and by Thursday morning the members will be able to judge for themselves how long it will take them to get it out of the way. It scarcely seems possible that it can be passed, and the tax-levy bill presented and passed by Saturday, for the bill is to be the result of a compromise, and the printing alone will take fully twenty-four hours. Expect that the legislative work, in fact, of the session that it will be Wednesday, the 24th, before matters will be in such a shape that the members can go home.

In this connection it is interesting to note the duration of the previous sessions since 1850. The number of days they sat follows: 1850, 102 days; 1851, 101; 1852, 66; 1853, 88; 1857, 69; 1858, 68; 1859, 80; 1862, 72; 1867, 76.

GOOD NEWS.

Good news can be chronicled for the Alameda county officials, for the Assembly has passed Kelley's amendment to the present law. It was decided to handle the subject in this way as soon as it was found that the Senate was inclined to drop the now county government act altogether, and the precedent set for Alameda county is being followed in behalf of Contra Costa, Los Angeles and a number of other sections of the State.

The amendment as passed by the Assembly changes the present county government bill as far as Alameda county's classification is concerned by awarding the extra deputies and allowances agreed upon in caucus. In order to prevent any fighting among the delegation which would mean death to the amendment, concessions were made all around, and the opposition to Jordan ceased to the extent of allowances being made to him for registration.

It is fortunate for Jordan that this is so, as it was predicted in this correspondence four days ago, that the Governor has decided not to sign the special registration bill passed in the County Clerk's interests. The Governor, notified Senator Stratton, who was the author of the measure, that he did not consider the plan proposed was a good one, because it did not limit Jordan's power as regards making registration appointments. He therefore, suggested that there should be some specific arrangement, such as one deputy at $100 for so many thousand registrants, and Senator Stratton will follow his ideas with the amendment, so that all the objections of the executive will be met.

The University appropriations have proved a great bone of contention in the Senate, many of the members taking the stand that the institution is already well enough provided for. Even the bill passed by the Senate, however, will not be of much help, as it was started by some of Grant's friends in the hopes of influencing sentiment in his behalf. "Whenever Grant figures he has forty-three votes he ought to be willing to go into caucus," remarked the Colonel, "and I am ready as soon as he is."

The circulation of the caucus call proved the last straw, though, for the bookmakers became alarmed and rubbed the odds against Grant off the slate altogether.

All efforts to run down the occasion of this sudden change in the betting proved unavailing, the only thing that could be cornered being a rumor that "a combination had been made that gave the fight to Grant." But how?

Col. Burns was by no means alarmed when the news was conveyed to him what was going on. He remarked to your correspondent that no combination could possibly have been formed that would affect his interests, and that the fight had been started by some of Grant's friends in the hopes of influencing sentiment in his behalf.

Even the most sanguine of the Grant men did not know, and to tell the truth the San Diegan's managers themselves appeared to be at a loss to know why their man had suddenly received such strong support. The only way the rest of the people could figure things out was that some optimistic individual hearing some little matters that he figured were in Grant's favor had decided to bet on him, whereupon others had magnified the occurrence until after it had passed from mouth to mouth half a dozen times it evolved into the "dead sure thing" that the later betting indicated.

Col. Burns was by no means alarmed when the news was conveyed to him what was going on. He remarked to your correspondent that no combination could possibly have been formed that would affect his interests, and that the fight had been started by some of Grant's friends in the hopes of influencing sentiment in his behalf.

Even the bill passed by the Senate, however, will not be of much help, as it was started by some of Grant's friends in the hopes of influencing sentiment in his behalf.

With the appropriations, however, matters are different, for a quiet tip has been given out that the Governor would not sign the bill appropriating $38,000, though he would be willing to do so for half that amount. Telegraphic advices to Stratton from the Regents resulted in their desire that the sums allowed should be as follows:
